

American Burying Beetles Move Carrion

This pair of American burying beetles has found a bird carcass that will help to feed their larvae.

In the wild, these little one-inch beetles can carry 200 times their own weight as far as 4 feet.

Can you help them find their way through the maze to their underground brood chamber?

